PERFORMANCE STRATEGY

“Is your company reaching its potential for profit, growth, quality, productivity and customer service?”

If you are finding that it is increasingly more difficult to improve your company’s performance, then you are not alone. In today’s competitive environment, performance strategies that were effective in the past are no longer providing the needed or expected results.

CoreStrata will help develop and implement core strategies that significantly improve your organization’s performance. Our goal is to help your company outperform your competition!

ORGANIZATIONAL ASSESSMENT

“You get a physical once a year, isn't it time for your company to have a check-up?”

Be proactive. The CoreStrata organizational assessment is an unbiased and comprehensive evaluation of your organization’s performance. We assess your strategy, leadership, sales, human resources, systems, processes, communications and financial performance.

We evaluate your company’s strengths and weaknesses and identify the key-performance drivers to improve overall performance. The assessment goes deep, well beyond the numbers!

This assessment can be focused on your whole organization, a division, a department, a team, a project, or a special group.

PERFORMANCE ASSESSMENTS

“Do you really know what drives and motivates your employees?”

CoreStrata performance assessments eliminate the guess-work and costly trial-and-error approach to determine and understand “what makes people tick” and what motivates them.

CoreStrata performance assessments are a series of internet-based behavioral and attitude assessment tools that:

- » Improve leadership skills
- » Improve communication
- » Improve individual performance
- » Enhance teamwork
- » Improve hiring effectiveness

- » Improve overall company performance and profitability

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

“Does your management team have the leadership skills to perform at the level you expect?”

We provide leadership development to enable your managers and your company to achieve extraordinary performance. Effective leadership creates a focused, goal-driven, vibrant, innovative, proactive, and responsive organization.

Developing leadership is one of the most important and greatest investments that your company can make to ensure long-term success. Great leaders are made and not born!

EXECUTIVE COACHING

“Who is developing and challenging your executives?”

Executive coaching is a one-on-one relationship that engages an executive in a deep and honest exploration of their goals and the actions required to accomplish them. Provide your executives the ultimate challenge!

Executive coaching supports, challenges, and holds accountable your executives to make consistent and often dramatic progress towards the realization of his or her most important aspirations as well as his or her potential.
